In a time of professional specialization where analysis is reduced to highly technical and narrow frameworks, a symptom of today's society and an outcome of Western fragmentary vision, there is currently an attempt to bring back the unity that has long been lost in a rational/linear and segmented world. Culture and art are inextricably tied together, and as such, the latter is an expression of the cultural context in which it is conceived. Literature and art are a reflection of society, and by extension, its critical methodologies. The problem, as Bakhtin observed, is one of definition of the epoch; there exists narrow historical horizons of our literary scholarship:

We explain a phenomenon in terms of its own present and the recent past (within the limits of that "epoch"). What we foreground is the ready-made and finalized. Even in antiquity we single out what is ready-made and finalized and not what has originated and is developing...We are suffocating in the captivity of narrow and homogeneous interpretations.¹

Literature is an inseparable part of the totality of culture and cannot be studied outside of the total cultural context. The language of the critic must move away from the fixed tendentious arenas of language; it must go beyond the limitations of abstract science in both the human and natural sciences and become dialogic and polyphonic in its discourse. In viewing the totality, the whole, the critic can experience the synthesis of unity, go beyond the parts and textual level to the contextual whole, where extra-artistic and extra-verbal context within a dialogic framework operate. It is synthesis, unity and interplay that transcend linear, fragmented and mechanistic notions of reality. It was Newman that once stated that truth can only be found after the utilization of all of the disciplines, ergo, a unified vision of the whole. Ricardo Sánchez, the barrio Chicano poet, belongs within this framework. He is a rebel amidst the maze of Chicano academicians that canonize according to their restrictive literary schools. Ricardo Sánchez is not just another barrio poet, a "bato loco", although he has this aspect to his background. Rather, he is a perspicacious multi-leveled individual who is not only well read, but who understands the socio/political historical framework of cultures. He is a poet that feels the urgent need to express his most profound emotions often linked to socio-political-historical conceptual reference. From his early writings in the pinta, to his most recent poetry, there is an evolution of the writer and his poetics. As a poet he is prolific; he is, in many ways, like the medieval bard who composed poetry for the occasion and who provided important social and historical ideas relevant to the times. But unlike the medieval bard, he calls for a revolution of ideas and society.

¹

Sánchez’ poetics transcends boundaries of poetry. There is within his poetics a dialogue, not only between poet and heroes/heroines, poet and audience, but also between form and content. It is Bakhtin that first developed a philosophy of language grounded on the interplay of communication. In Sánchez’ poetics there is, moreover, interplay among genres. Was it not Cervantes that first used dialogic interplay of genres in his Don Quijote de la Mancha? Did he not use both vulgar and romance discourse providing the potential through dialogues and plot movement for internal dialogic discourse? In Sánchez, there is an interplay and linking of poetry and essay, heteroglossia through a multifaceted projection of languages; here the poet is transformed to commentator critic and poetic voice while as prime author he contextualizes the history of his people vis-a-vis the rest of humanity. Sánchez’ poetics, thus, is unique within Chicano literature. His is not as concerned, as he says, with the "furry noun" or the resilient verb, as he is with thought, meaning and statement. It is his technique, however, that distinguishes him from the single voiced poet as he attempts to express the dialectics of historical multi-tonal cultures, the meeting of two consciousnesses within an existential world characterized by pragmatism and utilitarianism where xenophobia and racism are rooted in Western thought.

The poetry of Ricardo Sánchez is inseparable from the man; the poet is transformed into commentator moralist and critic but his work evolves along the lines of his personal struggle in a series of critical movements in his life. They are: the pinta period, his early formation and period of discovery, the period of canto y grito, of cultural and historical affirmation, the quixotic period, the period of sojourns, from Milwaukee to Amsterdam, from Amsterdam to Alaska, in which the poet poses important questions in dialogic form, and the nascent period, where the poet arrives at the outposts of academia, and reflects on humanity with a more mature and confident voice, with historic and universal implications.

The Pinta Period: Awareness and Discovery
The poetry of Ricardo Sánchez begins with Soledad, both with the penal institution as well as the concept of solitude that it represents. On another level, Soledad is the female, the image that surges within the context of aloneness. Metaphorically, soledad is a womb that is gestating, a feeling of "aloneness" projecting to "different levels of interminable deaths". Here the pain, the turmoil, the hatred haunt the poet in his personal hells and dreams. Here these "deserted ovens of sham and thoughtlessness" guard you losing one's identity. Only the basics matter as the poet breaks the chains recalling his barrio/Chicano life.

For a copy of this 19 page critical article, see Articles under this Series or click Bookstore. A CD copy of The Ricardo Sánchez Anthology will be available soon. The Table of Contents is provided for your perusal.)
TABLE OF CONTENTS

PREFACE AND ACKNOWLEDGMENTS—ARNOLDO CARLOS VENTO .............................................. x
INTRODUCTION—LUIS LEAL......................................................................................................... xiii

PART I: CRITICAL ESSAYS

(A) THE POET'S VOICE

MICTLA: A CHICANO’S LONG ROAD HOME—RICARDO SÁNCHEZ.................................. 3

RICARDO SÁNCHEZ: AN INTERVIEW BY LUIS LEAL
EMERITUS PROFESSOR UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA-SANTA BARBARA......................... 11

(B) THE POET'S ARS POETICA

RICARDO SÁNCHEZ: ARS POETICA—
ARNOLDO CARLOS VENTO, UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS-AUSTIN.............................. 27

(C) THE POET'S COMMITMENT

ECHANDO MADRES: THE POLITICAL AND SYMBOLIC ECONOMY
OF RICARDO SÁNCHEZ’ POESÍA DE CHINGAZOS,
B.V. OLGÜÍN CORNELL UNIVERSITY........................................................................ 47

(D) THE POET'S IMAGE AND CONSCIOUSNESS

ARCHETYPAL IMAGES AND CHICANO CONSCIOUSNESS
leonardo carrillo, TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY AT CORPUS CHRISTI.......................... 67

(E) THE POET'S LANGUAGE

EL USO DEL ESPAÑOL EN CANTO Y GRITO MI LIBERACIÓN DE RICARDO
SÁNCHEZ JESÚS ROSALES, TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY AT CORPUS
CHRISTI......................................................................................................................... 71

BILINGUAL WORDPLAY IN THE WRITING OF RICARDO SÁNCHEZ
NOT SWITCHING BUT BLENDING—M.S. HETHERINGTON,
EMERITUS PROFESSOR, COLLEGE OF CHARLESTON-SOUTH CAROLINA.............. 79

(F) THE POET'S PRESENCE
PART II: POETRY

CANTO Y GRITO MI LIBERACIÓN

ONE YEAR AFTER: REFLECTIONS ON/ABOUT/AROUND THE MOVIMIENTO
A PREFACE (OF SORTS).......................................................................................... 99

DESMADRAZGO.................................................................................................. 103
REO ETerno......................................................................................................... 107

THOUGHTS WHILE SIPPING COFFEE AT CITY HALL........................................... 108
IN EXILE: THE ONLY CHICANO OUTPOST IN THE OLDE COMMONWEALTH... 109
LO HUMANO....................................................................................................... 110
THOUGHT TO A MILLION EXPERIENCES CALLED FROM MY YOUTH. .......... 111
STREAM.............................................................................................................. 112
JUAN.................................................................................................................... 118
MIGRANT LAMENT.............................................................................................. 121
DENVER............................................................................................................. 122
PRESO POLÍTICO................................................................................................. 123
ALLÍ FUERA DE MI MENTE................................................................................ 125
CANTO.................................................................................................................. 126
IT IS URGENT.................................................................................................... 127
THE WOULD-BE GODS....................................................................................... 128
EXISTIR ES.. AN EXPERIMENT WRITING......................................................... 129
DICHTOMIES..................................................................................................... 134

LOS CUATRO

INDICT AMERIKA.............................................................................................. 139
CARNAL. TRAS REJAS........................................................................................ 142

HECHIZOSPELLS

HECHIZOS: PIECES OF LIFE.............................................................................. 145
ON BEING. HACIA LA LIBERACIÓN POPULAR................................................. 147
LETTER TO MELO.............................................................................................. 163
SOLEDAD WAS A GIRL’S NAME................................................................. 165
OTRA VEZ................................................................................................ 167
THREE DAYS TO GO.............................................................................. 168
EL HECHICERO...................................................................................... 170
PEREGRINO SOY .................................................................................. 174
MISIVA TO A CARNAL......................................................................... 178
PIENSO Y CANTO................................................................................... 183
BRONCE.................................................................................................. 184
QUEST...................................................................................................... 185
SUEÑO(S)................................................................................................. 186
OJOS......................................................................................................... 187
BARRIOS OF THE WORLD..................................................................... 188
GRANO, RANA VOICE........................................................................... 190
LATINOS................................................................................................. 192
EVOLUTION, MADNESS/ UNSANITY..................................................... 194
SANTOS RODRÍGUEZ............................................................................. 201
VIENTO; HISTORY AND DRUM: A POETIC EXPERIMENT IN SOUND.... 209
OYE PITO.................................................................................................. 217
TERESA, LAST NIGHT............................................................................ 223
JUST AFTER............................................................................................ 225
NEO’S & ARCHETYPES.......................................................................... 226
3rd WORLD UMBRAGE......................................................................... 228
NI XIPE CHAVITO.................................................................................. 230
ESE, PUÉS, NICHEs............................................................................... 232
COYÚNTATE MUJER............................................................................... 235
CRÍTICA FOR ARSE POETICUS............................................................... 240
DOS MOMENTOS EN MEJICLES............................................................ 246

MILHUAS BLUES AND GRITOS NORTEÑOS

ESCRITURA............................................................................................... 251
DAMN, OH DAMN................................................................................... 253
ARTE: CUMBRE DE LO HUMANIZANTE............................................... 254
LA CASI MUERTE................................................................................... 256
DENTRO CANTOS DE............................................................................. 259
RE-ENCUENTRO.................................................................................... 261

AMSTERDAM CANTOS Y POEMAS PISTOS

Y CON UN GRITO................................................................................... 265
BOATING................................................................................................. 267
CLUSTERS OF HUMANKIND................................................................. 268
REGRESO................................................................................................. 272
THE CLARION SOUNDED

CLEARING THE LABYRINTH

ÓRALE, DON CRISTÓBAL, OR RAPINE ET COLUMBINE

PIENSASENTIMIENTO CHICANO

PIENSASENTIMIENTO CHICANO: POÉTICA DE LA RAZA
LET ME HAVE

BORDER BONES

SCHEMATIQUES & MONTAGES
JORNADA EN 3/4 TIEMPO

AMERIKAN JOURNEYS: JORNADAS AMERICANAS

THERE IS NO TIME
O YOUTH, O LIFE
SYMBIONT SPACES
A DONDE LLEGASTE
A CÉSAR LO SUYO
CANCIÓN CHIAPANEKA

A SELECTED AND CRITICAL BIBLIOGRAPHY
A COMPREHENSIVE BIBLIOGRAPHY
OF RICARDO SÁNCHEZ’ WORKS.......................................................... 487

APPENDIX I
FRONTERAS : : BORDERS (RICARDO SÁNCHEZ)................................................................. 561
CARACOL INTERVIEW: RICARDO SÁNCHEZ, MARCH, 1978........................................ 565
FLOR Y CANTO AND CANTO AL PUEBLO—ARNOLDO CARLOS VENTO.......................... 569
SELECTED REMARKS OF RICARDO SÁNCHEZ ON BICULTURALISM
AND BILINGUALISM—M. SUE HETHERINGTON......................................................... 571

APPENDIX II
CARTA/MAGDA/CARTA Y OTRAS MISIVAS
(UNA OBRA NOVELÍSTICA EPISTOLARIA)
SEÑORONÍSIMA MARÍA MAGDALENA................................................................. 577
SEÑOR MANUEL ARTE Y COSMOS................................................................. 581
SEÑOR DON MÁSCARA DE TOÑO CARADECHIVO............................................. 583
DR. JUANDIEGO TORQUEMADA........................................................................ 585
DR. EDGAR ALLEN EHitMAN FREUD DE JUNG.................................................. 587
SEÑOR MAMÍFERO MAXIMÍNIMO MARTINEZ O’SHIT............................................. 589
DOÑA LUZ GABACHA DE COLÓN................................................................. 591
DON QUEJOTO MANCHADO DE PANZAS KLAUS.................................................. 593
DOÑOSOTA MAGDA DE CARTA MAGDA DE MALLI-NALLI........................................ 595
CHEFINO DEITY DE ULLOA, SECRETARIO GENERAL DI TUTTI MONDOS.............. 597
MUNDO DE MUNDO INVENTADOS................................................................. 599

APPENDIX III
REMEMBERING RICARDO
THE MAN, HIS PHILOSOPHY & HIS CONTRIBUTIONS—ARNOLDO CARLOS VENTO..... 603
UN AÑO DESPUÉS: REMEMBERING RICARDO—PHIL DURÁN.................................. 607
REMEMBERING MY COMPADRE SÁNCHEZ................................................... 613
BATO LOCO: PH.D.......................................................... 619

ABOUT THE AUTHORS....................................................................................... 625

533